

Living in a diverse society

Everyone is different and we should treat others the same way we would want to be treated.

This course will help you learn more about the diverse society that we live in

